

Nicole Deyell

Vice President, Industry
Impact & Development

Nicole Deyell brings more than 25 years of technical and executive leadership in Canada's energy sector, with a strong focus across upstream oil and gas from exploration through operations, risk management, and performance improvement.

She has held senior roles at BP and PETRONAS Canada, leading multidisciplinary teams and complex portfolios across the energy value chain. At BP, she held executive positions in Canada and the UK, overseeing subsurface and production for assets in Canada, and overseas. At PETRONAS Canada, she served as Vice President, Development, where she led a team spanning engineering, drilling, completions, and geoscience, while advancing capital efficiency and strengthening corporate HSE governance.

Nicole holds a degree in engineering and is recognized for her ability to integrate and foster collaboration across teams and organizations.

At Energy Safety Canada, Nicole leads initiatives that strengthen industry partnerships and drive measurable impact across the sector.
